Usage Guidelines
for Gartner Services

Updated
10 March 2015
Welcome to Gartner!

Thank you for purchasing a License to Gartner Research. We've created these Usage Guidelines for Gartner Services especially for you, the Licensed User. Through easy to understand rules and practical scenarios, the Guidelines are intended to help you use the Gartner Services within your contractual entitlements; and also get the most value from your Gartner relationship.

These Guidelines are intended to address the following areas:

- Research Documents for Internal Use (within your company)
- Research Documents for External Use (outside your company)
- Analyst Inquiry
- Usernames & Passwords

Baseline License: These Usage Guidelines constitute a baseline license that is generally applicable to Licensed Users who have purchased a subscription to Gartner Services. Where a specific Gartner product offering includes entitlements that are different from the baseline license, the terms of that product offering will apply. Gartner reserves the right to periodically update these Usage Guidelines.

Product Specific Usage: As the Gartner product portfolio continues to expand, even baseline usage parameters may slightly vary by the type of Service the client has purchased. If a Licensed User is unclear as to how a usage parameter in these Guidelines applies to the Service they have purchased, they should contact their Account Executive for further guidance.

Monitoring of Usage: Please note that Gartner monitors activity on our web site, including use of our Services by Licensed Users. If we see indications that our Services are being used outside of these Usage Guidelines, we may contact your organization and ask you to investigate your use of the Services and provide us with information to validate that the Services are being used within your contractual entitlement.

In the event of non-compliance, Gartner reserves the right at its sole discretion to either terminate (or limit access to) the Services or terminate the Service Agreement in its entirety.

If you wish to view the practical scenarios, you may do so at Usage Guidelines for Gartner Services. Gartner reserves the right to periodically update the practical scenarios to address client feedback and business needs. For any questions, contact usage.guidance@gartner.com.

Research Documents – Internal Use (within your company)

We welcome you, the Licensed User, to open as many Gartner Research documents as you like: for your personal use within your job and within the scope of your Service.

While you may print one hard copy of a Gartner Research document for your personal use in your job role, as a general rule Gartner Research documents cannot be shared:

- With individual non-Users; or
- Via email, intranet posting, or other information storage & retrieval systems.

If your job role requires you to share Gartner Research internally with your colleagues, you may:

- Briefly summarize* the Gartner Research in your own words for your project team or senior-level decision makers (attributing Gartner as the source).
- Include small excerpt* of Gartner Research (e.g., a few lines of text not to exceed 5 sentences, a paragraph, or a specific graphic) in an internal report or presentation (attributing Gartner as the source).

*NOTE: This is an acceptable use so long as it is:

- not done on a systematic or routine basis (e.g., by a Licensed User who consistently distributes a periodic summary or excerpt of Gartner Research or who leverages a company business process that allows non-Users to routinely approach the Licensed User to meet their Gartner Research needs);
- limited to an internal audience only of no more than 15 people; and
- not done with the intent or effect of avoiding the purchase of additional User licenses.

REMINder: This is a baseline license that may vary depending on your purchased product. Click here for further guidance.

Research Documents - External Use (outside your company)

We welcome you, the Licensed User, to open as many Gartner Research documents as you like: for your personal use within your job and within the scope of your Service.

Gartner Research documents cannot be shared (a) outside your company, or (b) via email, internet posting, or other external information storage & retrieval systems.

If your job role requires you to share Gartner Research outside of your company, you may:

- Excerpt or reference with prior written approval from quote.requests@gartner.com and in compliance with the Gartner Copyright & Quote Policy.
- Purchase a Reprint License for External Use. Click here for more information on Reprint Licenses.

Analyst Inquiry Usage Guidelines

We welcome you to call us if you are a Gartner Licensed User with Analyst Inquiry Service.

You may use our Analyst Inquiry Calls (or Written Responses, where approved) to discuss:

- Company related issues
- Interpretation of Gartner Research
- Document reviews such as basic technology reviews of business-related documents (up to 20 pages)

NOTE: Non-Users, inside or outside the Client company, may not participate on Inquiry Calls or receive copies of Written Responses. For the avoidance of doubt, “participate” in this context means Non-Users:

- May not physically attend a session
- May not listen in to an Analyst Inquiry session

Analyst Inquiry entitlements beyond the baseline service described hereunder may vary by service purchased. For additional guidance on your service-specific entitlements, please consult your account representative.

REMINDER: This is a baseline license that may vary depending on your purchased product. Click here for further guidance.

Usernames & Passwords Usage Guidelines

As a Licensed User, you will receive a unique Username and Password, which is for your personal use only, and may not be shared inside or outside your company.

There are two exceptions where your Username and Password may be reassigned to another within your company:

- If your job responsibilities substantially change so that you no longer require access to the Gartner Services; or
- If you permanently leave your company.

NOTE: When your company substitutes a Licensed User, the new Licensed User must be located in the same country as the original Licensed User. Where not possible, please consult your Account Executive for an appropriate solution.

NOTE: In situations where your company desires to assign a license to a contractor/sub-contractor

- The contractor must be a full-time equivalent, meaning they have a company assigned email address, company business cards and function for all intents and purposes as a full-time employee (as opposed to a temporary contractor for a discrete term);
- Company must contractually agree to pass on to contractor the Usage Guidelines and to be liable in the event of any misuse or non-compliance with the Services;
- Contractor must agree to only use the Services for your company (i.e., the company that issued the license);
- In no instance is it ever acceptable for a Licensed User to share their Username and Password with the contractor; and
- Upon termination of the contractor’s service term with your company please arrange to reassign the User License to another within your company per guidelines referenced above.

REMINDER: This is a baseline license that may vary depending on your purchased product. Click here for further guidance.
