Gartner Events is pleased to introduce a special new 1-day event for the busy IT Government executive that addresses critical IT needs for 2008.

InFocus Day: Government is a special program that encompasses a highly interactive learning and business environment focused exclusively for Public Sector IT/Business executives. Informal, intimate and interactive... and away from day-to-day distractions.

This roundtable format encourages the free exchange of ideas with Gartner analysts, industry experts and peers. You won't just "hear" the presentations delivered throughout the day. You'll shape them by sharing your questions, concerns and issues. By the end of the day, your top priorities will be addressed. You'll have real, actionable strategies you need to meet today's challenges and evolve for tomorrow.

In just one 8-hour day participants will gain exclusive Gartner analyst insights, as well as real-world best practices. Plus this event will offer unique relationship building opportunities that maximize this event's highly efficient format. And we're bringing it conveniently to the Sacramento, CA area.

Learn Essential Enterprise Level Change Strategies In Just One Day

Increasingly, government CIOs are being asked to respond to and drive changes at the enterprise level. The new IT agenda will:

- Explore how Public Sector IT Executives can manage successful enterprise change
- Foster the exchange of thought-provoking discussions
- Help you establish new business relationships in a unique, one day event format

Improving the Business of Government
