

GARTNER PEER CONNECT

Most IT leaders demand reliable peer input but struggle to find credible sources. Gartner has the solution.

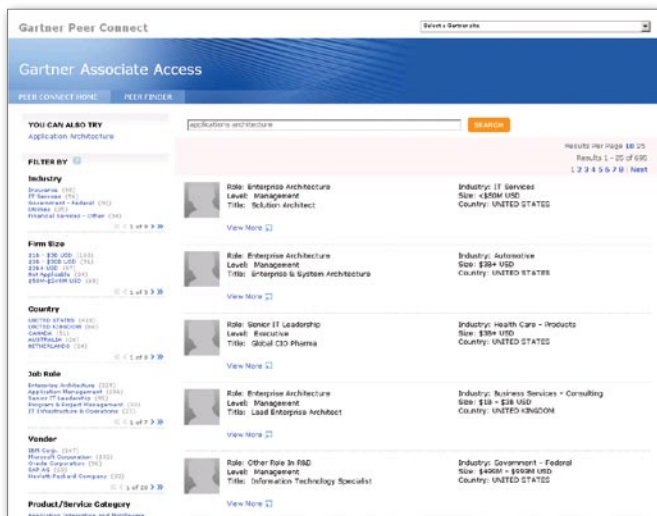

Gartner Peer Connect is an exclusive online community of experienced IT professionals around the globe. Peer Connect members know that well-timed insight can improve outcomes exponentially, and they are committed to interacting with peers. With its rapidly growing membership, Peer Connect is a powerful professional tool that connects you to credible peers with the experience you need.

Available to eligible Gartner clients at no additional cost, Peer Connect delivers the collective wisdom of thousands of IT professionals worldwide who tackle similar challenges every day. Members can:

- Get unbiased product and vendor references—not just the ones vendors supply
- Find practical advice to avoid common pitfalls across key initiatives
- See at a glance if other IT professionals recommend the products and services they're considering for their enterprise
- Exchange ideas about vendors, products or strategic initiatives
- Expand their professional contacts instantly and globally

Creating a profile takes less than five minutes. Gartner facilitates the networking so your privacy is maintained.

You control your connections. Invite who you want to invite, accept only the connections you want to accept, and reveal your identity only if you decide you want to make the connection.

Search by vendor, product or strategic initiative and filter by a range of variables to quickly zero in on the best contacts for your needs.

Why rely on your best guess when a world of experience is right at your fingertips? Don't go it alone—go with Gartner Peer Connect.

"I have been looking for a capability like Peer Connect—a non-intrusive way to extend my network. The discussion I had was very valuable, and we've already identified other areas of common interest. Being able to find peers and discuss issues with them, without going through a vendor, helped me make more informed decisions faster."
